28.9.91.4.8.6.

I should be greatly obliged since that is the main purpose of my book if you would give me your opinion as to the future development of the international language, in what activities it will be most used and how it would react upon the social life of the people. I am endeavouring to gather opinions from leading persons in the international language movement.

With apologies for trespassing upon your valuable time

Sincerely yours

E. Guio Dan Rhurst.

Question: Why should it be Interlingua but Lingua internationale instead of the adjective preceding the 4.

noun as in the English form. International Congress? (2a and a²) // this is added by the Cono.

(2) Why do you ^{say} Anglia instead of England and Hispania instead of Spain?
