(NATIONAL CENTRAL LIBRARY)
NANKING, CHINA.

December 13 1933

Dear Sir:

We beg to inform you that in accordance with the mandate of the Ministry of Education, National Government, a long-contemplated national library has been established on the twenty-first of April, nineteen hundred thirty-three, under the name of

NATIONAL CENTRAL LIBRARY.

We are now endeavouring to make an extensive collection of literature covering all branches of knowledge for the purpose of reference and research. Especially we would be glad to get a complete set of the publications of your institution. On behalf of the library I have the honour to solicit copies of your publications, and we assure that the valuable works will receive careful attention and will render a useful source of reference and research, should they be procurable gratis here in this library.

We would greatly appreciate the help and courtesy of your institution and would be much obliged to you, if we could receive your publications with complete file. We, therefore, ask you kindly to put the name of the National Central Library on your permanent mailing list, to receive all your future publications.

Thanking you for your co-operation, we are, Dear Sir,

Respectfully yours,

Chiang Fu-tung
